an international group of anthropologists take a fresh look at various neglected approaches to comparison and present new approaches that are relevant to the globalized world of the 21st century in recent years announcements of the birth of business anthropology have ricocheted around the globe the first major reference work on this field the handbook of anthropology in business is a creative production of more than 60 international scholar practitioners working in universities and corporate settings from high tech to health care offering broad coverage of theory and practice around the world chapters demonstrate the vibrant tensions and innovation that emerge in intersections between anthropology and business and between corporate worlds and the lives of individual scholar practitioners breaking from standard attempts to define scholarly fields as products of fixed consensus the authors reveal an evolving mosaic of engagement and innovation offering a paradigm for understanding anthropology in business for years to come

george stocking has been widely recognized as the premier historian of anthropology ever since the publication of his first volume of essays race culture and evolution in 1968 as editor of several publications including the highly acclaimed history of anthropology series he has led the movement to establish the history of anthropology as a recognized research specialization in addition to the study victorian anthropology his work includes numerous essays covering a wide range of anthropological topics the eight essays collected in the ethnographer s magic consider the emergence of anthropology since the late nineteenth century as an academic discipline grounded in systematic fieldwork drawing extensively on unpublished manuscript materials the essays focus primarily on franz boas and bronislaw malinowski the leading figures in the american and the british academic fieldwork traditions according to george marcus of rice university the essays represent the most informative and insightful writings on malinowski and boas and their legacies that are yet available beyond their biographical material the essays here touch upon major themes in the history of anthropology its powerfully mythic aspect and persistent strain of romantic primitivism the contradictions of its relationship to the larger sociopolitical sphere its problematic integration of a variety of natural scientific and humanistic inquiries and the tension between its scientific aspirations and its subjectively acquired data to provide an overview against which to read the other essays stocking has also included a sketch of the history of anthropology from the ancient greeks to the present for this collection stocking has written prefatory commentaries for each of the essays as well as two more extended contextualizing pieces an introductory essay retrospective prescriptive reflections places the volume in autobiographical and historiographical context the afterword postscriptive prospective reflections reconsiders major themes of the essays in relation to the recent past and present situation of academic anthropology at the beginning of the twenty first century the demand for anthropological approaches understandings and methodologies outside academic departments is shifting and changing through a series of fascinating case studies of anthropologists experiences of working with very diverse organizations in the private and public sector this volume examines existing and historical debates about applied anthropology it explores the relationship between the pure and the impure academic and applied anthropology the question of anthropological identities in new working environments new methodologies appropriate to these contexts the skills needed by anthropologists working in applied contexts where multidisciplinary work is often undertaken issues of ethics and responsibility and how anthropology is perceived from the outside the volume signifies an encouraging future both for the application of anthropology outside academic departments and for the new generation of anthropologists who might be involved in these developments
